Elder J. T. Butler, formerly pastor of the Advent Christian church in this city, but now pastor of the Advent church in Jacksonville, was in the city Monday en route to Jasper to attend quarterly conference which was held in that city commencing on Tuesday.

Mr. Roy L. Helvenston, a prominent citizen of the flourishing city of Live Oak, was in town today, calling on his cousin, Mr. E. T. Helvenston. Mr. R. T. Helvenston is on his way to his former home at Sumterville. Mr. Helvenston made the Star a pleasant call.—Ocala Star.

We had the good fortune to meet on the train recently, Bro. J. W. Blume of Live Oak. Bro. Blume was returning from South Florida, where he had been looking after his turpentine interests. Bro. Blume is multiplying himself in good works after a way well pleasing to our Heavenly Father.—Florida Christian Advocate.

Rev. J. B. Culpeper and son the revivalists so well known and esteemed in Live Oak have closed the most successful revival ever held in St. Petersburg, over one hundred names having been added to the different churches. They are now conducting meetings in Palatka, and will go from there to Tampa.

C. H. Dame returned today from Live Oak, where he went to reinforce the W. O. W. camp, which he did to the tune of 37 new members. The members of the camp gave him a royal time. One of the new members is Editor McCormack, of the Live Oak Democrat. From Live Oak Mr. Dame went to Jacksonville to attend a meeting of the finance council of the order, where he met Grand Sovereign Colonel Benwood Jewell, of Omaha, who is on his way to Tampa to establish a division headquarters for this jurisdiction. Mr. Dame goes down to Coleman tomorrow to straighten out things there.—Ocala Star.

Dr. W. D. McRae, of Perry, was registered at the Suwannee Monday.

It was our great pleasure to shake hands with those loyal Methodist laymen, Mr. A. W. McLeran of Welborn, and Mr. O. O. Mickler of Callahan. They were in attendance upon the Jacksonville District Missionary Institute. Their presence helps and inspires us. They are men who are doing what they can to advance the Kingdom. God bless them.—Florida Christian Advocate.

The Ocala Banner of Sunday has the following concerning a former and popular citizen of Live Oak: "We had a very pleasant visit yesterday from Major George Butler of the Inverness Chronicle. He has been here on a visit to his foster daughter, Mrs. Bowie, whose husband is foreman of the Star. Major Butler has been in editorial harness for many years, and is still doing commendable work. There is no more popular writer on the Florida press."

How Live Oak Looked to Him.

Rev. N. H. Williams, of the Florida Christian Advocate, who was in our city recently, thus speaks of his visit in the last issue of the Advocate:

"It was our good fortune to be able to spend last Sunday with our people at Live Oak. We found Dr. Atkisson moving along pleasantly with his work. He has a strong hold upon the hearts of the people, for they know a good thing when they see it and are pleased with their pastor. Sunday was one of the loveliest days we ever enjoyed. Skies blue, air balmy, sunshine bright and warm. Everything conspired to make our stay pleasant. We preached at both services to fairly large congregations. We represented the Advocate at the morning service and secured five subscribers. Live Oak already has a fine list. The Advocate goes into most of our Methodist homes there. At the evening service we spoke to the laymen on the Layman's Missionary movement. They gave us a cordial hearing. We believe much good will come of that effort. The church there is strong and aggressive. We look for truly great things from this choice body of men.

"While Live Oak has suffered some from the panic, the low price of lumber, turpentine and cotton, she still looks thrifty and her people are hopeful. Suwannee is one of the best counties in the State. Live Oak is one of the best towns. It was there in that church that we first looked upon the Florida conference. We shall always have a tender place in our heart for this choice little city."

Death of Mrs. Ella Sessions.

Mrs. Ella Sessions died at her home in this city Saturday, February 13th, after a painful illness of over a year.

Mrs. Sessions was one of the oldest residents of Live Oak, having come here from Fernandina with her father, Capt. John Frasier, in the early seventies. Live Oak at that time was a mere village and Capt. Frasier was one of the pioneers in the development of our city.

In 1895 the death of Mr. W. H. Sessions left Mrs. Sessions a widow for the third time. Shortly afterward the death of her little daughter, Irene, left her childless. She never ceased to grieve for the loved ones she had laid away.

Though being of a retired, quiet disposition and not appearing much in public, her friends were numbered by her acquaintances, and those who knew her best loved her best, and the influence of her life is most keenly felt by those who came in closest contact with her during her life. The funeral services were conducted at the home of the deceased by Rev. J. F. Ford, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, and the body was interred in Astorick cemetery Sunday afternoon. The handsome casket was furnished by Undertaker Potsdammer, who had charge of the burial services.

Mr. Ericson's Old Home.

Go see it, it's a beauty. It stands out among all its neighbors, because the coloring is so bright and clear. Mr. Ericson painted with L. & M. Paint and says it cost 1-3 less than ever before. He bought only 12 gallons of L. & M. Paint and 9 gallons of Linseed Oil to mix with it. This made 21 gallons of pure paint, and cost only $1.30 per gallon. It's as handsome as the finest in town. The L. & M. is sold by The Brown-Thomson Drug Company, Live Oak.
